

Household Finance Analyzer

Personal Finance Report — Income, Expenses, Savings & Forecast

Generated on 07 June 2026, 07:55 PM

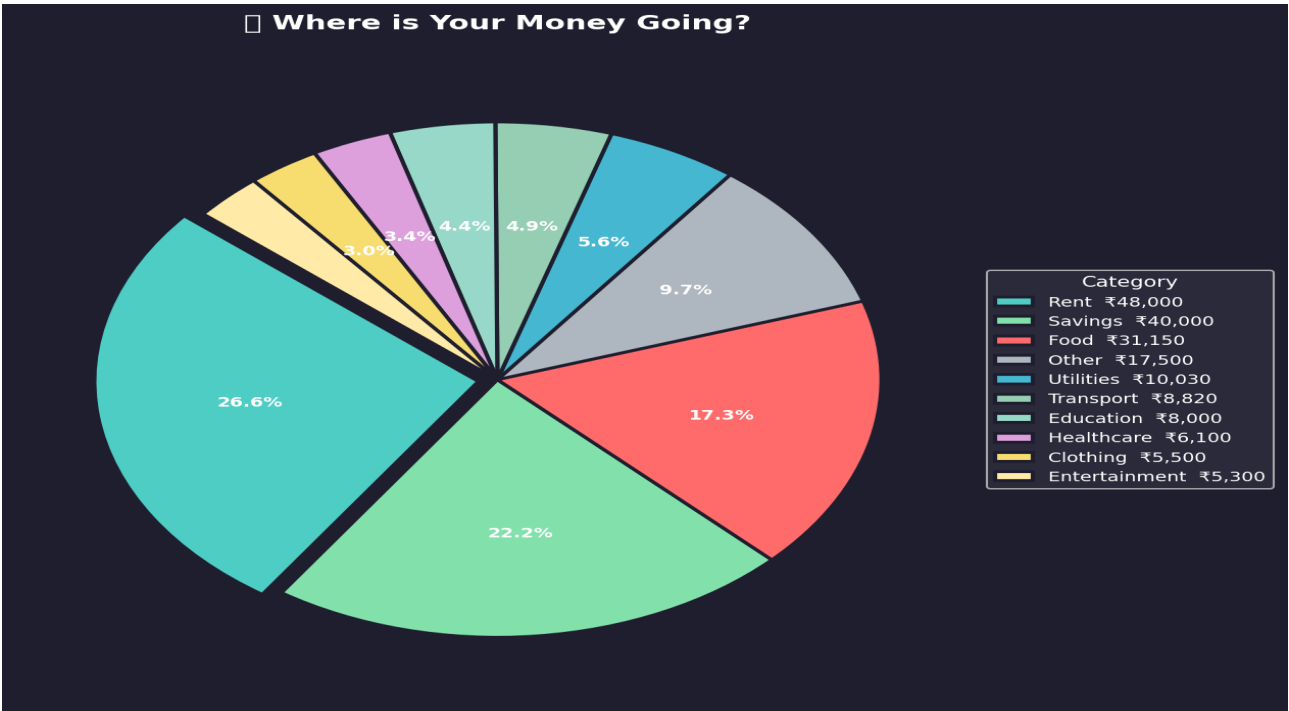

1. Financial Summary

Metric	Value
Total Income	Rs. 295,000
Total Expenses	Rs. 180,400
Net Savings	Rs. 114,600
Savings Rate	38.8%
Months Covered	7
Best Month	2024-04
Worst Month	2024-03

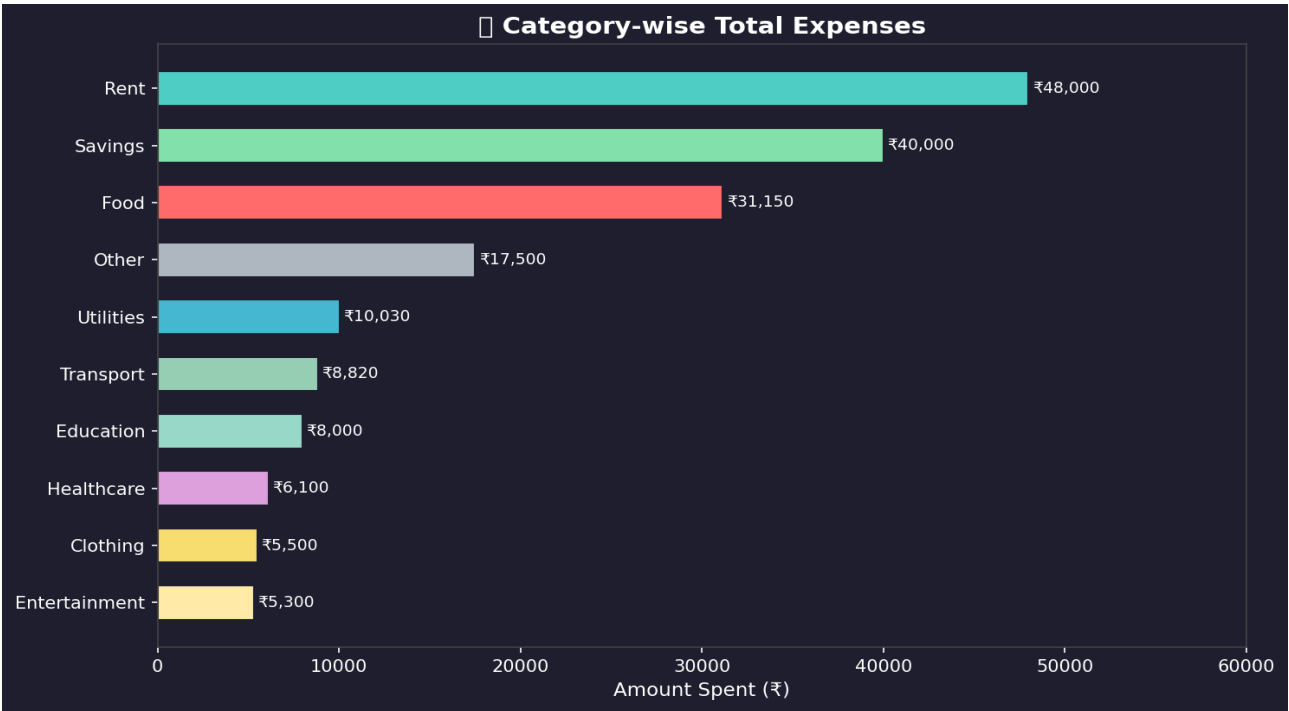

Savings Health: EXCELLENT (>30%)

2. Category-wise Spending

The charts below show how your total expenses are distributed across different categories over the analysis period.

Category distribution of total expenses

Horizontal bar chart — category spending breakdown

3. Monthly Trends

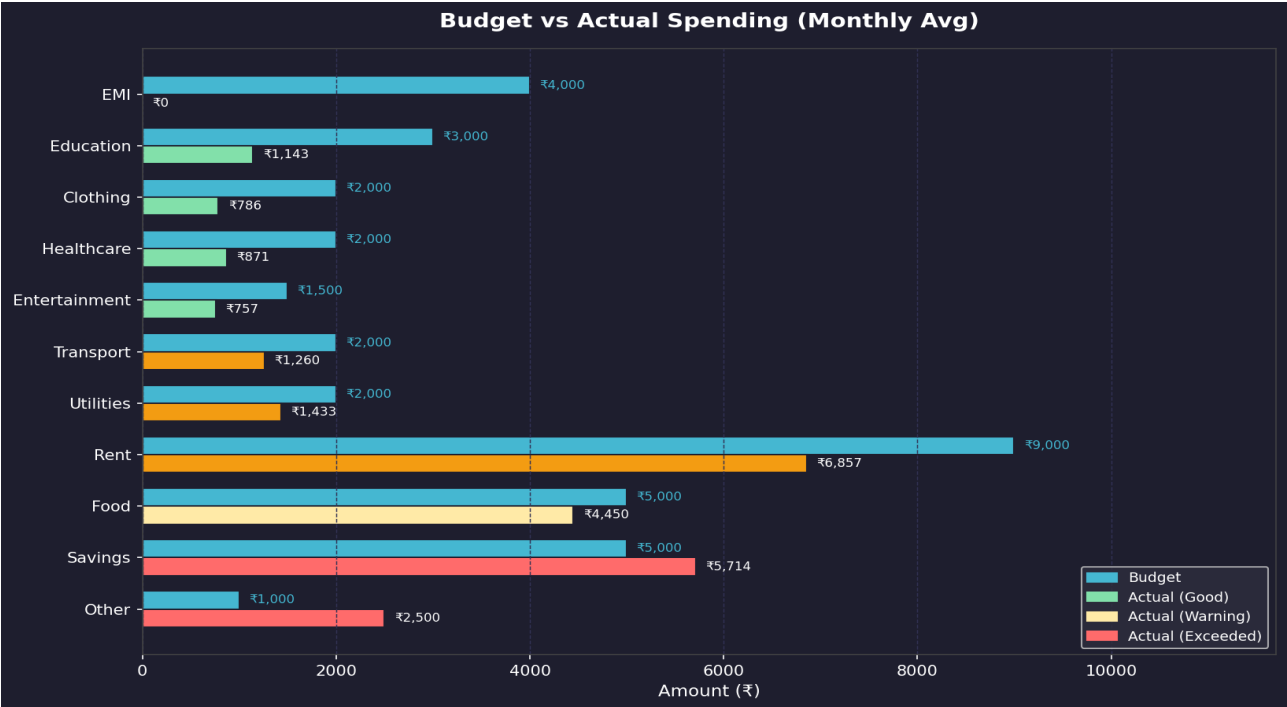

Track how your income, expenses, and savings have changed every month. The 20% line on the savings chart is a recommended minimum savings target.

[Chart not found: Charts\trend_line.png]

[Chart not found: Charts\savings_rate.png]

4. Budget vs Actual

Compare what you planned to spend (budget) vs what you actually spent. Red bars indicate budget exceeded.

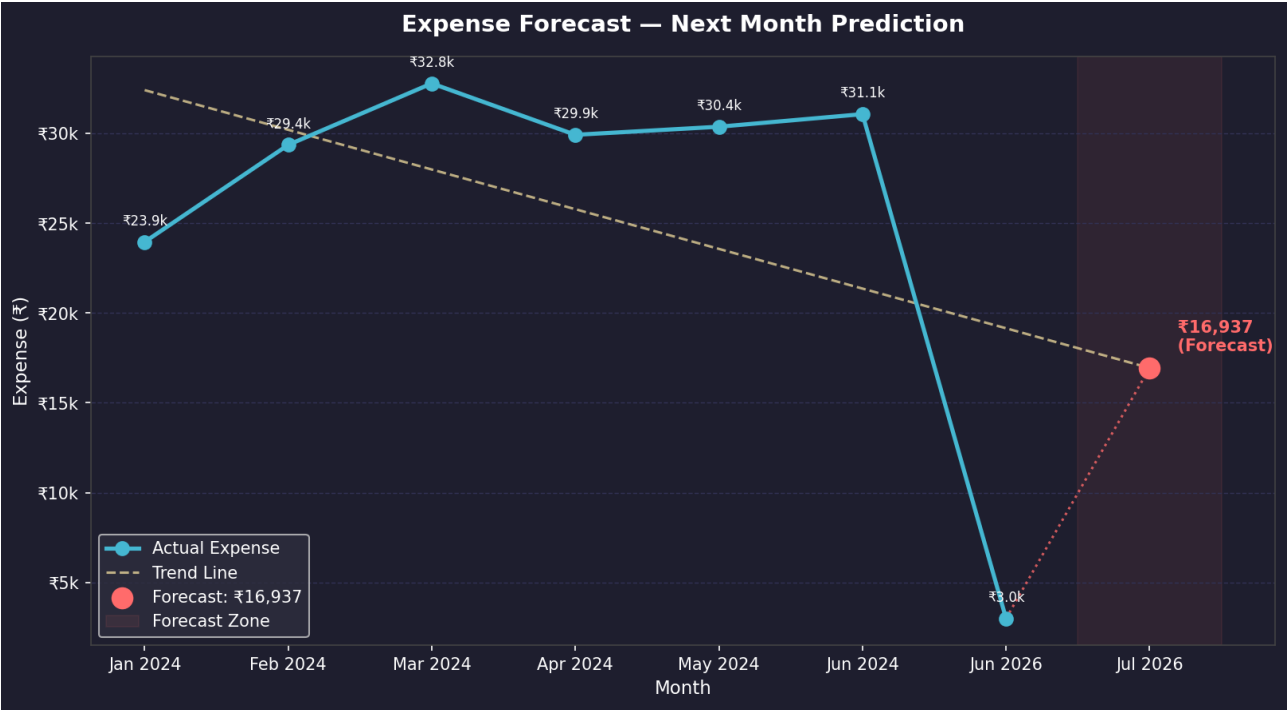

Budget limits vs actual spending per category

5. Expense Forecast

Based on linear regression over your historical data, next month's predicted total expense is Rs. 16,937. Your spending trend is DECREASING with an average monthly change of Rs. 2,209.

0.

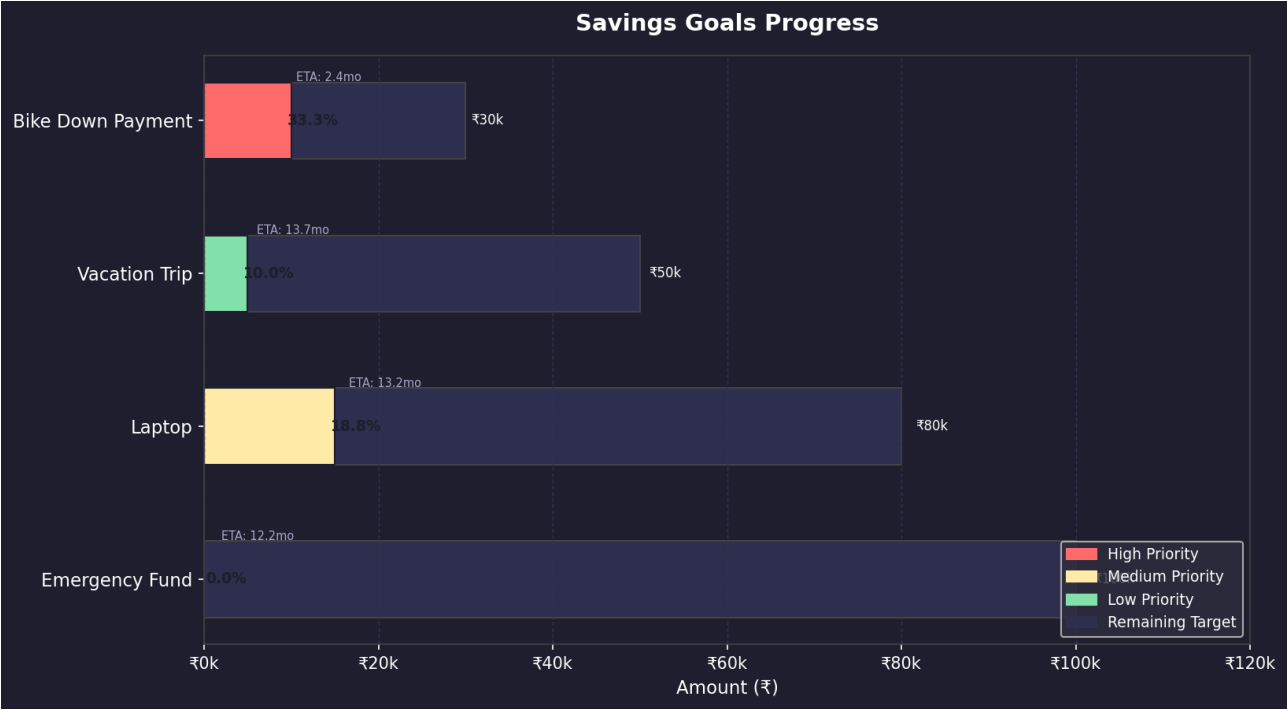

Historical expense trend with next-month prediction (red dot)

6. Savings Goals

No goals set yet. Add goals via the CLI menu.

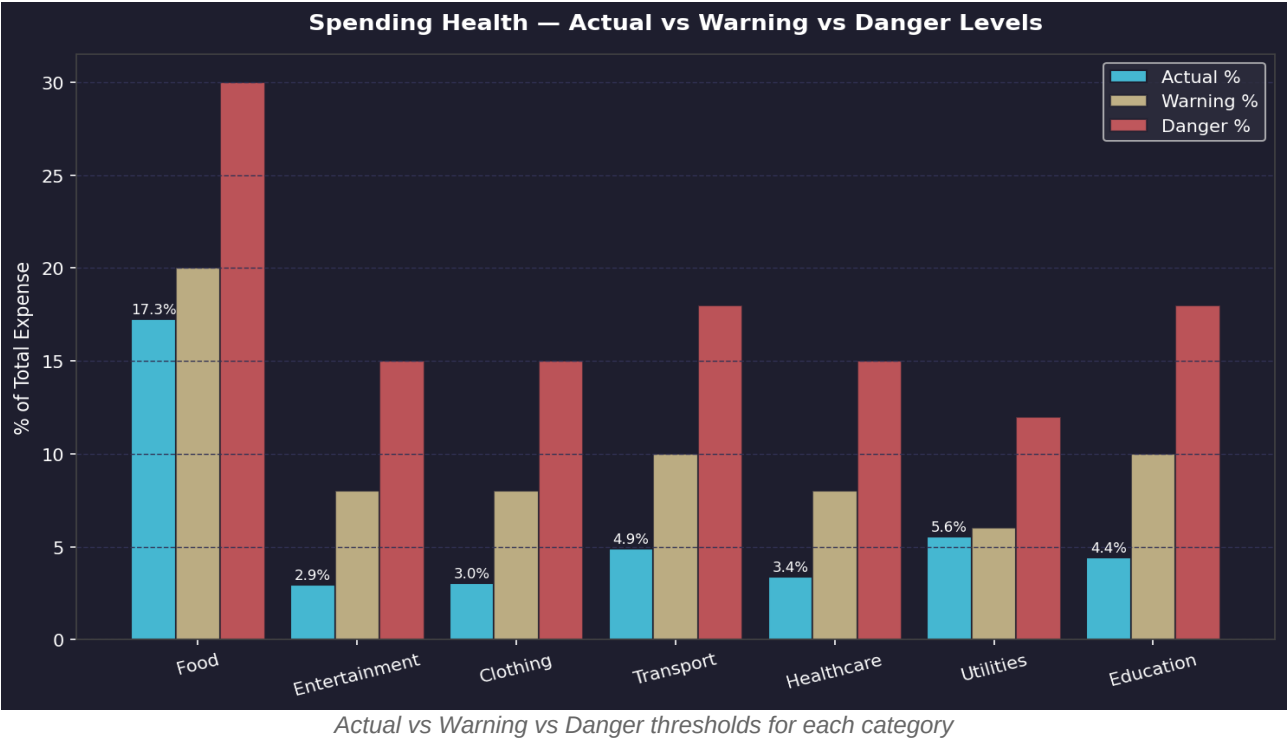

0.

Savings goals progress tracker

6. Spending Health (50-30-20 Rule)

The 50-30-20 rule recommends: 50% on Needs, 30% on Wants, 20% on Savings. Green bars are within limits; red bars need attention.

7. Smart Recommendations

Based on your spending patterns, here are personalised tips to improve your financial health:

[!] Excellent discipline! Consider investing the surplus.